

SOVIETS EXTEND PURGE IN BULGARIA

FARLEY GIVES
INSIDE STORY
ON ROOSEVELTREASON FOR BREAK
BACK IN 1937
REVEALED

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, June 12 (AP)—James A. Farley, ending his long silence on why he broke with Franklin D. Roosevelt, said today that the late president never forgave him "for putting party welfare above the personal allegiance he considered his due."

In an article in Collier's, the former postmaster general and Democratic National committee chairman listed five events bearing on the break. One, he said, was his opposition to the president's "disastrous attempt" to purge Democrats who "opposed his will."

Another, he declared, was a belief by Roosevelt that Farley nursed "presidential aspirations for 1940."

Gap Widens Slowly
Farley said the rupture was more political than personal. "Actually," Farley wrote, "there was no sharp, clean break."

Political principles, he said, were neither of us, but the gap widened under the pressure of years, I find it difficult to put the finger of memory on the beginning. Almost before I knew it, I was no longer called to the White House for morning bedside conferences, my phone no longer brought the familiar voice in mellifluous familiarity, and months dragged between White House luncheon conferences.

Soon I found I was no longer being consulted on appointments even in my own state.

"Then, too, I found I was as much in the dark about the president's political plans as was the chairman of the Republican National committee."

"White House confidence on politics and policies went to a small band of zealots, who mocked at party loyalty and knew no devotion except to their leader."

Events Enumerated
Farley enumerated the five events leading up to his resignation from the cabinet and National committee in August, 1940, as follows:

1—After Farley shared in a big ovation given Roosevelt on Oct. 14, 1936 in Chicago, Marvin H. McIntyre, the president's secretary, told Farley the next day "they thought it best" that thereafter Farley should not appear on the same platform with the president "because of the Tammany situation."

2—A few weeks later Basil O'Connor, Roosevelt's former law partner and now chairman of the Red Cross, reported to Farley that the president thought Farley "was nursing presidential aspirations for 1940."

"This simply was not true at the time," Farley said. "Yet I have often wondered whether this uneasy suspicion colored my subsequent relations with the White House."

3—Charles Michelson, then publicity director of the Democratic National committee, had to urge the president to write a letter of appreciation to Farley for his work in the 1936 campaign. The letter was for use in the printed program of a testimonial dinner to Farley.

"There was no mention (in the letter) of my services, even after a special request," Farley wrote.

CAT HAS TWO HEADS
New York, June 12 (AP)—A two-headed cat with four eyes, two mouths but only two ears was born today to a cat owned by Mrs. Emily Mason in Howard Beach, Queens.

The kitten, one of a litter of five, is alive and apparently in good health, Mrs. Mason said.

Teen-Age Mother
Held In Strangling
Little Baby Girl
Racine, Wis., June 12 (AP)—A teen-aged mother was held under $5,000 bond today on charges she murdered her 24-day-old daughter.

Mrs. Frances Stowell, 18, of Burlington, Wis., was arraigned before Court Commissioner E. L. Taley, who set the bond and ordered her to face trial in municipal court June 24 on a charge of second degree murder. Mrs. Stowell, formerly of Eatonville, N. J., did not enter a plea.

Dist. Atty Edward Krenke said the murder warrant was issued after an autopsy disclosed the baby was normal and had died of strangulation.

Krenke said Mrs. Stowell related in a statement she "killed the baby," Linda Marlene, by putting "one hand over her mouth and one on her throat."

Her husband, Lee, 21, a milk plant employee, said "I'm still very much in love with her and I'm going to stand by her and do all I can."

Carpenters Strike
May Delay Opening
Of Fair At Detroit
Lansing, June 12 (AP)—A strike of carpenters in the Detroit area now in its sixth week may delay the opening of the State fair, scheduled for Aug. 28, said Adrian N. Langius, state building director, today.

He declared the $400,000 rehabilitation program was at a near standstill in many respects and if the strike continues, the work cannot be completed in time.

The fairgrounds, used during the war as an army supply depot, are being reconstructed for fair purposes under an army indemnity payment.

Restoring Reich's Economy To Cost U. S. Much Cash
Washington, June 12 (AP)—Eleven news executives who were the Army's guests for one month in American occupation zones in Europe agreed today that Germany's economy must be restored and that it will cost the United States a great deal of money to do it.

They expressed these views at a news conference in the war department.

Joseph E. Ridder, president of Ridder Newspapers, said he regards Germany as "the main front against the ruthless onrush of the Russians."

But the newspaper officials could not agree on whether Britain and the United States should aim for a separate peace with the former enemy country, leaving Russia out.

Ridder said he considers it "possible, but not too certain that Britain and America could operate a reasonable self-supporting economy in their occupational zones."

Russia Unyielding
Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa Tribune, noted that the two most important cities of Germany and Austria—Berlin and Vienna—are in Russia's occupation zones.

"Russia is not agreeing to anything," Jones said.

Larry S. Fanning, managing editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, said "pump-priming" is "our only hope of winning" in Germany.

The publisher of the Harrisburg Telegraph, Albert H. Stackpole, said the Germans, especially the young Germans, are losing faith in democracy.

"They feel that democracy is not giving them what they need for food," he said.

And John W. Hillman, editorial director of the Indianapolis News, added:

"You can't be in Berlin without knowing that you are in the front line of democracy—or in Austria without feeling that you are on the flank of democracy."

"It seems that we are losing the battle."

Ruhr Needs Help
Ralph Coghlan, editorial editor of the St. Louis Post Dispatch, said: "If you want to get the German economy going, you've got to pour food into the Ruhr and build houses for the workers."

Coghlan said he visited a German coal mine and came up with "a lot more respect for John L. Lewis."

He noted that it takes skilled men to mine coal, and that many of Germany's miners have been killed. Those recruited for mining can't do a good job because they are unskilled, he said.

"I would take a chance of alienation of other parts of the population and other workers in heavy industry by concentrating on getting the Ruhr going. I would pour food into it," Coghlan added.

Morehead, Ky., June 12 (AP)—Rowan County Judge Luther Bradley issued a murder warrant today for Orville Brown, 24, sought in connection with yesterday's shotgun slaying of a country storekeeper and a youth in the store at nearby Christy Creek.

Sheriff Samuel L. Green said Brown, with his wife and two children, lived within a few hundred yards of the store where the two persons were shot to death by a masked gunman. The sheriff said Brown had been working at Shirley, Ind., for about a month but returned home "the day before the killing."

Brown's "whereabouts are unknown," the sheriff said, as officers pressed a search for the man who shot to death Ed Johnson, 52-year-old storekeeper, and Bobby Rowe, 16. Bloodhounds are being used in the hunt.

The warrant against Brown was issued by Judge Bradley on recommendation of County Attorney Elijah Hogge after the sheriff reported the finding of a mask about a quarter of a mile from the scene of the crime.

Green said the mask may have been the one which witnesses said the killer wore when he shot down Johnson and Rowe, each with single blasts from a shotgun.

Pilots From Five States Included In Air Caravan

Twenty-one planes carrying nearly 50 persons arrived at the Escanaba airport yesterday afternoon for an overnight stop, and this morning will leave here for Marquette on the next leg of the first Upper Peninsula air tour this year.

Wayne J. Sheldon, Lansing, tour manager, said yesterday that because of adverse weather several of the planes failed to arrive at Sault Ste. Marie for the scheduled start yesterday morning. From the Sault they went to Newberry, thence to Escanaba.

At the request of the air tourists, who represent pilots from five states—Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin and Ohio—a "different" entertainment program was arranged here by Wally Arntzen, chairman of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce aviation committee.

Instead of the usual reception and dinner, the air tourists wanted a boat ride and were taken to Washington Island on the "Griffin," owned and piloted by Capt. Carl Richter of the Island. At the Island they enjoyed a fish dinner served on the beach, and a dancing party later.

The pilots will return to Escanaba by boat this morning and will then continue their tour with a noon stop at Marquette and an overnight stay in L'Anse. Saturday they will fly to Crystal Falls, Iron Mountain and Munising.

Registered pilots arriving here yesterday were:

Otis B. Bradway of Newcastle, Ind.; M. L. Byrn of Ann Arbor; Don Frazier of Aurora, Ill.; Frank Fulkerson of Ellettsville, Ind.; A. LeHesse of Milwaukee; S. D. LeBarre of Detroit; Ralph Lavery of Niles; Burt Miller of Lorain, O.; A. L. Nye, Ann Arbor; C. R. Sinclair, Muskegon; V. M. Spencer, Wixom; Ed Thompson, Greenville; Fred C. Valentine, Marion, Ill.; Fred E. Wall, Detroit; Carleton C. Walters, Battle Creek; Fred S. West, Detroit; Walter Carr, Lansing; N. L. Wirt, Battle Creek; Jack Nichols, Ann Arbor; Wayne J. Sheldon, and Sam Burgess, Lansing; Ed Kozel and Joe Fontana of Iron Mountain.

After the departure of the boat for the Island last evening, two additional planes arrived and flew there for the supper program. Entertainment there included songs by an Escanaba "barber shop" quartet composed of Ernie Peterson, Rupert Prinski, Lowell Sundstrom and Nick Bink.

Two Jima Flag Raiser To Speak At Scout Camp

Menominee, Mich.—John H. Bradley, of Milwaukee, who helped to raise the flag on Mount Suribachi on Iwo Jima on Feb. 23, 1945, for Joe Rosenthal's famous AP picture, will raise the flag to dedicate a new flag and flagpole at the Boy Scout Bear Paw Lake camp at 4 p. m. Sunday, June 15. He will make the Flag Day address at 3 p. m.

The Flag Day celebration is under joint sponsorship of the Boy Scouts and Elks lodges of Green Bay, Oconto and Marinette-Menominee, who are donating the flag and flagpole for the central camp at Bear Paw Lake.

Fur Breeders Will Meet In Milwaukee

Milwaukee, Wis.—Lawrence Rabel, prominent White Bear Lake, Minn., mink breeder, will discuss "Mink Ranch Practice" at the 1947 Fur Farmers' International Summer School which will be held here June 18, 19 and 20, according to an announcement made by Harley Wittig, Green Bay, Wis., secretary of the Wisconsin Fur Breeders association which is sponsoring the school.

"Rabel is one of the outstanding mink breeders of the nation," Wittig said, "and his message to the hundreds of breeders from all over the country who will attend the summer school should be of great interest in these days when ranchers are trying in every way possible to reduce their ranch operation costs."

Wittig also announced that the summer school banquet will be held on the evening of June 19 in the Hotel Schroeder.

WOODEN MONEY IS DISTRIBUTED

Demand Exceeds Supply, New Issues Are Planned

Because of the great interest aroused by the story that appeared in yesterday's Press about the use of Wooden Money in Escanaba as a medium of exchange during the pre-Festival activities, it was decided that the distribution of the wooden nickels should be made immediately.

Red and blue issues of Wooden Money in one, two, and five, wooden nickel denominations have been printed and are being distributed to the merchants of Escanaba as fast as the Lions Club members, who are sponsoring Wooden Money can deliver them.

The demand for Wooden Money has far exceeded the supply and new issues in different colored inks will be run off as soon as possible. Orders from merchants and individuals for Wooden Money will be taken and filled in the order given. Wooden Money distribution center is located at Festival Headquarters, 710 Ludington street and Wooden Money may be secured by calling in person or by phoning to 1100 or 2374M.

Soviet's Atomic Plan

IN presenting the first detailed Soviet plan for international regulation of atomic energy before the United Nations, Russia has accepted the principle of international inspection, one of the two basic requirements that the United States has insisted upon. This is a change from previous Soviet pronouncements, which opposed the inspection principle.

Nevertheless, the Russians still refuse to accept the second basic requirement as outlined by the United States, elimination of the veto privilege in matters concerning atomic regulation violations.

The Russians propose to establish the international control commission on atomic energy within the framework of the United Nations security council. The American view, supported by the atomic commission majority, is that the atomic development authority should be set up independent of the security council.

In any case, the United States will never accept any international atomic energy control plan that does not completely safeguard all nations from attack by potential violators. That means that we certainly shall not accept any plan that retains the privilege of veto power against the punishment of atomic violations. Such a plan would be worse than meaningless. It would suggest security that does not actually exist.

Because today we lead the world in atomic knowledge, we are in position to dictate the type of international control that provides the greatest measure of security for ourselves and for all other nations of the world. We shall refuse to reveal our secrets under any other condition.

Industrial Expansion

SECRETARY of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., speaking to industrial survey workers in Marquette Wednesday and at Houghton yesterday, gave some particularly good advice concerning the industrial expansion in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Pointing to Escanaba as one example of what can be accomplished in this regard, Mr. Alger emphasized that cities that possess the will, the program and the basic information needed concerning industrial location factors can get new factories.

The state official declared that industrial decentralization is accelerating, which offers new opportunities for small cities that do not have the disadvantages and irritants present in so many large cities.

Particularly, Mr. Alger advised that cities seeking new industries emphasize the high quality and productivity of Upper Peninsula labor, a factor of great interest to midwestern industrialists. In this one very important factor, our area is especially privileged. Our labor organizations on the main are not geared to slowdowns.

The industrial surveys now being developed in so many of the communities of the Upper Peninsula preface an expansion of the kind of industrial program that has been so successful in Escanaba.

No More Rationing

APPARENTLY in an effort to beat congressional legislation designed to force the end of sugar rationing, the agricultural department Wednesday suspended the ration controls on sugar purchases by all but industrial users, retaining price controls on sugar, however.

The action taken voluntarily by the agricultural department accomplishes exactly what the bill before the house of representatives was designed to do. Significantly, the action was taken less than 24 hours before the bill was due to be acted upon.

Whether forced by congressional activity or not, the agriculture department's suspension of sugar rationing means that American housewives finally can toss away their dog-eared ration books.

The announcement of the department revealed that in addition to heavy sugar supplies now cramming eastern warehouses, additional allotments have been guaranteed from Cuba. Also a supply of 200,000 tons in Java will be available to the world.

Knowledge that housewives no longer will have to guard their time-worn ration books as if they were the family jewels is cheering, indeed.

United States Protests

THE United States has vigorously protested the Communist seizure of power in Hungary and has accused Russia of violating terms of the Yalta agreement by "flagrant interference" in the internal affairs of Hungary. Further, the government of the United States has demanded an American-British-Russian investigation of political conditions in Hungary as a matter of urgency.

The move officially places this country on record in condemnation of the Communist seizure in Hungary and blames Russia for engineering the seizure. It does not, unfortunately, bear much hope of changing the situation in Hungary. The American protest undoubtedly will be rejected, as will the request for a three-power investigation of political conditions in that country.

We have requested copies of the so-called confession of the former secretary general of the Hungarian Smallholders party, purporting to show how the former administration in Hungary proposed to overthrow the government. Naturally we were skeptical of that confession and our skepticism was enhanced by the Russians' refusal to produce the confession.

If Russia refuses to permit a three-power investigation of conditions in Hungary, we will take the case to the United Nations. Even if the United Nations joined in the condemnation of Russian interference in the Balkans, the Russians are still in the driver's seat in Hungary with small hope that she can be forced out.

Plainly enough, the situation means that we shall have to strengthen our efforts to prevent Russian expansion in Austria, Germany, Greece and Turkey, in China and in all other countries where the Communist threat to national security is developing.

MORE WORTHY HEROES (Christian Science Monitor)

L'I Abner and Little Orphan Annie are about to have some new neighbors. They are Jack and Judy—not to be confused with Jack and Jill or Punch and Judy. And the pictorial strip in which they will appear in 25 newspapers subscribing to the Chicago Sun Syndicate is to be called "Jack and Judy in Bibleland." Though not a member of any syndicate, we are glad to see such a wholesome feature winning wide circulation.

It may offend the sensibilities of some people to think of David downing Goliath among more questionable characters of the comic strips. But the venture has the backing of ministers, teachers, juvenile court and welfare officials. The material is edited by a committee representing three major faiths. And a generation more familiar with the exploits of Superman than of Moses stands to gain from the realization that the Bible has heroes, too—but real ones.

TONNAGE FROM MESABI (Sault Ste. Marie News)

We have frequently mentioned two billion as the tonnage of ore that has passed through the Sault locks since their opening in 1855.

Most of this tonnage, probably three-fourths, came from the great Mesabi range in Minnesota. Since that range, an open pit, was opened in 1892, a total of 1,482,667,028 gross tons (2,240 pounds per ton) were mined and shipped, according to records of the Lake Carriers' Association, as reported in the Association's Bulletin for May.

The weight of that ore is more than 10 times the weight of all steel in United States railroads, plus all the ships of the Navy, active and inactive and the entire U. S. merchant marine of 4,700 vessels.

The grand total of Mesabi iron ore tonnage, carefully compiled by the association, will reach exactly 1,500,000,000 tons when this season's total reaches 17,332,972 tons.

THE LOST DAUPHIN (Sault Ste. Marie News)

On the Oneida Indian reservation, not far from Green Bay, Wis., was recently buried the body of a man dead almost 100 years, who, in his lifetime, was a mysterious figure. He used the name Eleazer Williams, but he claimed to be the "lost Dauphin," Louis XVII, heir to the French throne, son of the unfortunate Louis XVI. He had been buried in the 1850s in Hogsburg, N. Y., but he had spent most of his adult life with the Wisconsin Indians, and married an Indian maiden. The Indians wanted his mortal remains to rest with theirs.

During the first of the last century in many parts of the United States rumors persisted that this person or that was Louis XVII. In the 1820's a group of French nobles toured the Middle West stopping at a tavern in Maumee, Ohio, near Toledo, seeking the prince, who, they heard, was a missionary to Indians in that section. Whether they ever found Williams is not clear. At any rate he remained at his post, evidently preferring his pastorate to the doubtful job of trying to restore the Bourbons to power in France.

The recent re-interment was desired by the Indians, not because of any claim to royalty on the part of Williams, but because of his selfless devotion to their well being. And without a doubt the man gained much more satisfaction from life in this humble role of service than ever came to any of those he looked upon as his ancestors when they wore, in turn, the crown of France.

A university professor says it's dangerous for a man to marry after 30. How about before?

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

WHAT IS THE ORIGIN?

Q. What is your explanation of the silent "s" in the word island?—W. M. A.
A. The "s" got into the word through a blunder. The original word was the Anglo-Saxon island which meant "island land." Island entered Middle English as land.

Now the word should have remained as land; but the Middle Age scholars (who are responsible for practically all the nonsensical spelling in English) had the idea that land was derived from the Old French word isle. Whereupon, they placed the "s" in the non-French word land and, at the same time, adopted the Old

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—In striking a political balance sheet on the net result of Henry Wallace's recent barnstorming tour, most observers have attributed to two causes the crowds that turned out to pay money to hear him. One was curiosity, and the other the organizing zeal of the fellow-traveling left.

This leaves out a third element which may be just as important as the other two. Wallace has identified himself with a deep longing for peace that is worldwide.

As a farmer in Minnesota put it: "Well, he seems to want peace, and that fellow in the White House talks like he wants war."

The age-old confusion between desire and reality is here illustrated in all its tragic meaning. The blanket of Wallace's naive idealism conveniently obscured the facts, and earnest, well-intentioned people mistake the rosy glow of hope for a promise of what will happen day after tomorrow.

—APPEALS TO CHURCH GROUPS—
The appeal is particularly strong for church groups. It touches Progressives and Farmer-Laborites in the Middle West who were part of the strong current of "Merchants of Death" variety.

History may never repeat itself in exactly the same pattern. But it does seem sometimes as though the great motifs constantly recur. Henry Wallace had a counterpart in Great Britain in the '30s.

George Lansbury was one of the veterans of the British labor party. He believed in peace. He believed in peace with an honest, passionate sincerity that not even his enemies could mistake. In the House of Commons, on every possible platform, Lansbury preached peace.

He told his audience he was sure that, if only he could go and talk with Hitler, he could make him understand that war was fatally and finally and ruinously destructive. He could convince Hitler, he said, that neither the British nor the Germans wanted war and that somehow they must work out their problems peacefully.

Well, in April of 1937, Lansbury went to see Hitler in Berlin. It was an incredible interview—sweet, white-haired, saint-like Lansbury sitting down with the prince of evil to talk about peace. In a statement that same day, Lansbury said he had had a most satisfactory talk with Hitler about the need for a peace conference of the great powers.

"What I wanted to get from Herr Hitler, I got," Lansbury said. "Germany is willing to go with a good heart into such a conference."

We know now, from the secret Nazi Archives, how long before that date Hitler and his gang had been plotting world conquest. We could have known from "Mein Kampf" if we had had the sense to read Hitler's autobiography with the awareness that he meant every word of it.

—PEACE AT MUNICH—

But, of course, it was useful to Hitler to tell Lansbury that he wanted a peace conference. On the day of that interview, the Goebbels propaganda machine issued a statement saying Germany would welcome a peace conference if only President Roosevelt would call one. A year later, Hitler got his peace conference—at Munich, with Chamberlain and his pathetic umbrella.

In the light of what has happened, we can see the deep deservance that Lansbury did. Students at Oxford were signing the Pacifist oath never to fight again in any war—an oath they were soon to ignore. No wonder the Nazis got the idea they could ignore Great Britain in their plans for conquest. Winston Churchill was then a lone voice crying out against the peril of Nazism and rebuking Lansbury for "dominating in a vacuum."

The influence of men like Lansbury helped to blind the British labor party to the meaning of the Spanish Civil War. They simply shut their eyes and let the Spanish tragedy go on to its conclusion while Italy and Germany rehearsed their strategy of conquest.

The lesson of the '30s is that peace at any price means finally war at any cost. It is not a choice between Wallace's brand of idealism and war. The alternative is a positive, far-seeing policy that will make use of America's great economic and technological strength to build a stable world.

The tragedy of the moment is the negative presentation of our air program. It has made it too easy for Wallace to pose as the only champion of peace.

French isle, giving it the same meaning as island.

Meanwhile, the French word isle dropped the "x" and became the Modern French word isle, pronounced: eel.

This is why we have in English today two words of similar meaning: (1) island, a word of illegitimate origin, and (2) the word isle, which no longer exists in Modern French, and to which we have given the non-French meaning, "a little island" (the French word for "little island" is ile, masculine, ileite, feminine).

Q. When, why and by whom did the "u" get in Maundy Thursday?—G. A. S.

A. This is another instance of Middle Age scholars' inability to cope with the great number of French words that entered English following the Norman Conquest.

Maundy originally was the Old French word mandle, pronounced: mah (n)-DAY. It meant "a command." The English were unable to pronounce mandle because of the nasal sound in the first syllable. So, they changed the spelling to mounde, which finally became maundy.

Today, Maundy Thursday is the Thursday of Holy Week, and is emblematic of the washing by Jesus of the disciples' feet, as described in John xii: 3-5.
Maundy is pronounced: MAUN-dee.

EIGHT FROM ESCANABA

"Anyone from Esby be here at four-thirty?" It was written on a note, and pinned at the point locating Escanaba on a large map of the United States. The map was in the snack bar at the Ernie Pyle theater in Tokyo.

As a result of that note eight men from Escanaba and vicinity gathered in far off Tokyo for a reunion.

The story is told by PFC David Leighton, who is with a special service detachment in Japan, and is written in a letter to his friend, O. V. "Ollie" Thatcher, 608 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba.

Dave is 20 years old, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Leighton of 505 South Sixth street, and enlisted in the U. S. Army last September. In Tokyo he has been working out of General MacArthur's headquarters. But let's have him tell us about some of his experiences.

FINDING HOUSES —Apparently there is a housing shortage in Tokyo, too, for PFC Leighton writes:

"When I first hit Tokyo and general headquarters I began work with the chief engineer of Tokyo Dependence Housing. The job, mainly preparing run down Japanese homes for American officers and their dependents, was very interesting for the four months I worked at it. A couple of months bunched around Tokyo looking for streets and buildings that don't exist any more is okay, but one gets tired of even that kind of work. I became tired of pleading with contractors to get on the ball and finish construction by target dates, so began looking around for something more interesting."

WANTS TO TRAVEL—The letter continues:

"In GHQ here in Tokyo an enlisted man has a very good deal in the fact that if he becomes tired of one job it is very easy to transfer and move to something else. Since I have been in Tokyo quite a bit and learned something about the Japanese people's way of living I thought it would be great to travel all over the Far East."

"To accomplish this I auditioned at the famous Ernie Pyle theater and was accepted. Now I'm helping out a variety show together. This should get me around Japan for cure and possibly to Okinawa, Manila and Korea."

SINGS AND DANCES—Because Dave Leighton didn't mention in his letter whether he sings, dances or plays the one-stringed zither, we telephoned Ollie Thatcher, to whom Dave had addressed his letter, and asked Ollie about Dave's entertainment talents.

"I don't know," said Ollie. "I don't think he plays any instrument. You might ask his folks about it. Call his mother."

So we telephoned Mrs. Leighton and she was certain on one point—that Dave was singing in an act—she said she believes that he is in a dance routine also.

BACK TO TOKYO — After clearing up this little mystery, we will go back to Tokyo and Dave's letter to Ollie.

"Right now the show is in its first phases, so we aren't rehearsing very often. Swimming and tennis have been my almost daily routines. Tuesdays and Fridays I

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Barton Rees Pogue, Hoosier humorist, who is well known here, will tell of his fishing experiences in the Upper Peninsula and announce the date of the June 23 Fishing Party during the R. F. D. program over Station WLW.

Detroit, Mich.—Fourteen Michigan survivors of the Grand Army of the Republic marched proudly today behind their national commander, C. H. William Ruhe of Pittsburgh, in a parade which concluded their three-day state convention.

Sault Ste. Marie—Litigation involving the $20,000 hull of the oil tanker J. Oswald Boyd which was wrecked on Simmons Reef in the Straits of Mackinac with a cargo of 900,000 gallons of gasoline, November 8, 1936, appeared certain today as attorneys attempted to determine the owner of the ship.

Escanaba Utility users will find a surprise gift in their utility statements this month in the form of a rebate on sales tax, which is being returned by the city, A. J. Manley, city treasurer, said yesterday.

Twenty Years Ago

Stuebenville, O.—Ray and Roy de Autmont, wanted in Oregon for the killing of postal clerk and three trainmen in a passenger train holdup four years ago, were found today by federal agents and local police working in a steel mill here.

Berlin—After four days of excitement and unabated enthusiasm, the non-stop flight of the Bellanca plane Columbia from America to Germany still dominates the public interest in Germany.

Escanaba's ore docks, during the month of May, shipped 785,706 tons of iron ore as compared with 752,912 tons in May 1926.

The senior class of St. Joseph's high school is busy perfecting plans for the activities incident to Commencement week. Thirty-one young people, constituting the largest class ever graduated at St. Joseph's will receive diplomas.

go to the Tokyo School and attend night classes. Thursdays it's church choir. So you see my time is well occupied.

NOTE ON THE MAP — "On Sunday, May 11, I went to the snack bar in the Ernie Pyle theater here in Tokyo and noticed pinned on a large map of the United States, used for locating friends from home, a slip of paper pinned over the location of Escanaba. Printed on the slip was this message: 'Anyone from Esby be here at four-thirty.'"

"Naturally being eager to see who it would be, I was there on time. First one fellow came—said he had noticed the note. Then another, and another until there were eight of us. I took them all over to 'Mac's' headquarters in the Dai Ichi Building so they could see him when he came out."

AND HERE THEY ARE — Between the lines of the letter it is possible to visualize the reunion of the young fellows. Undoubtedly there was much shaking of hands and talk about the folks back home. Probably each of them wanted to know more about the others, and they compared notes on mutual friends and acquaintances.

"I'll give you their names as they all wanted me to send something about it to the Press," Dave writes to Ollie.

So here they are: Phillip L. Goubeau Clifford Larson and Robert J. Lemerand of Escanaba; Donald J. Theoret

What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject not involving extended research. Legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) mail this coupon and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Daily Press Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. Q. Who introduced the modern methods used by detectives?

A. Francois Eugene Vidocq, "father of modern detective methods," born in Arras, France, in 1775. He had a very varied life. He was an acrobat in a circus; served in the French Army, however, through a quarrel was imprisoned and sentenced to serve eight years, but escaped; he then lived with the thieves in the underworld. While living with the thieves he learned their methods, then offered to help the police catch the thieves. He organized the first detective bureau of modern times and used ex-criminals to help him. He raised the first Brigade de Surete and served ten years as its chief.

Q. Were any copper pennies minted in 1943?

A. No. Because of the critical need for copper during the war, no copper pennies were minted in 1943. Instead pennies were made of steel-zinc.

Q. For what is the new wind tunnel to be constructed at Burbank, California designed?

A. To test the aerodynamic characteristics of burning jet motors and other rocket type motors. It will be the first of its kind in the U. S. The estimated cost is $2,384,000.

Q. Why are the leaves of plants green?

A. Because a chemical principle, called chlorophyll, is formed within their cells, which has the property of absorbing the red rays and reflecting the blue and yellow; which mixture produces green. In the spring leaves are a light green because the chlorophyll is not fully formed, while leaves turn brown in the fall because the chlorophyll undergoes decay.

Q. Why do persons in a crowded church feel drowsy?

A. Because the congregation inhales a large portion of the oxygen of the air which alone is needed to sustain vitality; and the air of the church becomes impregnated with carbonic acid gas which produces drowsiness in those who inhale it.
Q. Can you tell me the "Seven Spiritual Works of Mercy?"
A. (1) to admonish sinners; (2) to bear wrongs patiently; (3) to comfort the afflicted; (4) to counsel the doubtful; (5) to forgive offenses; (6) to instruct the ignorant; (7) to pray for the living and the dead.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—The man who has done more to block the Taft-Wagner-Elender Housing Act and low-cost housing is shrewd eagle-beaver lobbyist Morton Bodfish of the U. S. Savings and Loan League.

Able lobbyist Bodfish has issued a confidential bulletin to Savings and Loan members which the general public isn't supposed to know about. For it gives away one of the secrets as to how he gets legislation introduced in congress. The confidential bulletin also discloses the fact that Senator John Bricker of Ohio has a personal motive behind some of the bills he has introduced on housing loans.

After telling how Bricker had introduced four bills affecting Savings and Loans associations, Bodfish goes on in his "confidential bulletin" to reveal this significant fact:

"Senator Bricker, who is director of one of our largest Savings and Loan institutions, is naturally a staunch believer in the fundamentals of thrift and home ownership and his introduction of these bills carries with it an unusual interest in their passage."

NOTE—Versatile lobbyist Bodfish did not mention two other congressmen who do his bidding as members of the House Banking and Currency committee. They are: Rep. John J. Riley of Sumter, S. C., a Democrat; and Rep. Chas. K. Fletcher of San Diego, Calif., a Republican. Though relatively new congressmen, they strangely turned up on the important banking and currency committee which passes on low-cost housing bills. Both congressmen are executives of Savings and Loan associations and they have voted consistently for their associations and against housing that would help veterans.

—TRUMAN'S BUST—

When Paul Griffith, Commander of the American Legion, and Charles Keck, New York sculptor, called on Harry Truman to present Keck's latest bust of the President, Truman leaned back meditatively and said:

"You know, when I was in the senate ten years ago, I never dreamed that this would happen to me—that one day I would be receiving a bust of myself in the White House, as President of the United States."

Keck reported that the bronze likeness was a personal gift to "you and your family." It matches another bust the sculptor has made for American Legion headquarters in Indianapolis. Both bear the inscription: "Harry S. Truman, President of the United States, Citizen, Statesman, Legionnaire."

"The American Legion is proud of you," said Griffith, as the bust was placed on Truman's desk.

"Thanks," replied the President. "I'm a Legionnaire in good standing. I attended numerous Legion conventions as a delegate from Missouri."

While Truman was appraising the bronze image, he suddenly noticed that something was missing. The bust was a true likeness in every respect save one—there were no glasses on it.

"I thought you'd notice that," chuckled Keck.

"Try these on for size," suggested Truman, removing his own glasses and handing them to Keck. There was a burst of laughter as the sculptor fitted them on the bust. However, Keck said he wouldn't consider his job finished until the bust was fitted out with its own glasses—in bronze. "I'll find a way," he assured Truman. "I had the same trouble with a bust of Teddy Roosevelt, only that job was even tougher, because Teddy wore pince-nez with a ribbon attached."

—SENATORIAL DUEL—

No time is wasted on subtleties when those two politically allergic gentlemen, Republican Senator Bob Taft of Ohio and Democratic Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, square away. The boys speak their minds with engaging bluntness, especially when Montana's Democratic Jim Murray is on tap with vocal assists for Pepper.

While the Senate Labor committee was considering his public health bill the other day, Taft led off with a charge that the Wagner-Murray-Dingell Health Insurance bill, a much more liberal measure, was a "piece of propaganda."

"The former Chairman (Murray) always used this committee as a propaganda agency to put over the things he wanted," commented Taft acidly.

"That is utterly false," fired back Murray. "It is just in line with your attitude all along."

To support his point, Taft cited the labor control bill enacted this session. Under Murray, he charged, the committee had always "suppressed labor legislation."

"That's not true," asserted Pepper, jumping into the fray. "The Senator from Ohio knows that."

"Well, it's been true the eight years I have been on the committee," retorted the Ohioan.

The alert Pepper decided to concede that point in order to bolster his own position. "I thank God," he parried, "that some of us are proud to be associated with the defense of labor and not identified with its destruction."

Taft looked bored, and proceeded to the consideration of his bill.

Alger Sees New U. P. Industries

Marquette, Mich. (AP)—Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., speaking before a group of industrial survey workers, declared Wednesday that the upper peninsula could benefit from the trend of industrial decentralization.

"Industry has been leaving the large cities for several years," Alger declared. "In the southern part of the lower peninsula, community after community has benefited and there is every reason to believe that the factors which led manufacturers to locate in small towns down there are also present in your region."

Commenting on details of the upper peninsula survey program

ter, Mrs. Alma Haas, in Garden, where it will be in state. Services will be held Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the home and at 2:30 o'clock at the Congregational church in Garden. Rev. Serge Hummon of Rapid River will conduct the rites. Burial will be in Garden township cemetery.

for economic development, the secretary of state said: "I would advise you to emphasize especially the quality and productivity of upper peninsula labor—a factor of great interest to mid-western industrialists."

"You also have, with respect to labor quality, an advantage which should be preserved—perhaps by a program of vocational education either within or in addition to your regular school activities," he said.

Veteran Hospital Still At Standstill

Iron Mountain—Although the site of the proposed new Veterans hospital here was surveyed recently by two representatives of the architectural firm supervising plans for its erection, no indication was given by the two as to when construction of the hospital would begin.

The men, Arthur Fitzgerald, of Glenview, and W. G. Atkinson, of Winnetka, Ill., surveyed the grounds and took notes for future landscaping to be done during and after construction of the project. Conferring briefly with Don Smith, secretary of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford chamber of commerce, the men said:

"We are as much in the dark as you are as to when construction will begin."

They also conferred with E. C. Bradley, of the Bradley Construction company, concerning excavation and landscaping, and with officials of the Champion Gravel company about use and supplies of gravel. Herman Berg and Thomas Blum, landscape gardeners in the city, were consulted as to kinds of shrubbery best suited to this area. Fitzgerald and Atkinson had lunch at the Chippewa club with Erminio Raffin, mayor; Ralph Speer, city engineer; Berg, Blum and others.

Myers-Thelander Wedding Ceremony Of Interest Here

Of interest in Escanaba, former home of the bridegroom and his family, is the wedding of Miss Elsie Marie Myers, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Myers of Scottville, and Donald F. Thelander, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Thelander, of Oak Park, Ill., which took place on April 19, at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Haight, in Mt. Pleasant.

Rev. Russell King of the Methodist church of Coldwater performed the ceremony in the living room of the home before an improvised altar banked with baskets of snapdragons, white carnations and pink roses. Brass candelabra on either side of the altar held tall white lighted tapers.

Miss Marjorie Myers, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Martin Svilend served as best man.

The bride wore traditional white satin, and the fingertip lace veil which her mother wore at her wedding, held in place by a crown of deep pink roses. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and white carnations. Her maid of honor wore pastel green and a shoulder corsage of deep pink carnations.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece rose jersey dress with black accessories and Mrs. Thelander wore rose crepe with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink and white roses and carnations.

Wedding Dinner

A large bouquet of roses, carnations, snapdragons and sweet peas, of pink and white, arranged with tall white tapers, decorated the table for the wedding dinner served following the ceremony.

The couple will live in San Francisco, where Mr. Thelander is stationed with the United States Navy. The bride, a graduate of Scottville high school, attended Marquette college for one year and graduated from the University School of Nursing. She interned at Hines general hospital where she has been employed.

A&P's Close-Trimmed "Super-Right" Meats

TRIM YOUR MEAT BILLS

A&P "Super-Right" Meats are Selected for Quality...
More Waste is Removed...You Get GREATER VALUE!

Two factors govern most of your meat purchases: (1) the price per pound, and (2) the cutting method employed. Let's first consider price. The price per pound featured is NOT necessarily a guarantee of quality. IT IS NOT THE PRICE PER POUND THAT COUNTS... IT'S WHAT YOU GET FOR YOUR MONEY! Cutting methods often employed give you portions of coarse meat and bone that you can't put to best use; for example, the short ribs attached to rib roasts, the tails on steaks, and the long rib bone on chops and roasts.

A&P "Super-Right" Meats are cut the Close-Trimmed way. That means excess fat and tails or flank meat are removed. You enjoy the choicest part part of each cut. The pictures below of the old-style Porterhouse Steak and the "Super-Right" Close-Trimmed Porterhouse tell the story. Read on, you'll see what we mean.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A PORTERHOUSE STEAK and a "SUPER-RIGHT" PORTERHOUSE STEAK!

OLD-STYLE PORTERHOUSE STEAK

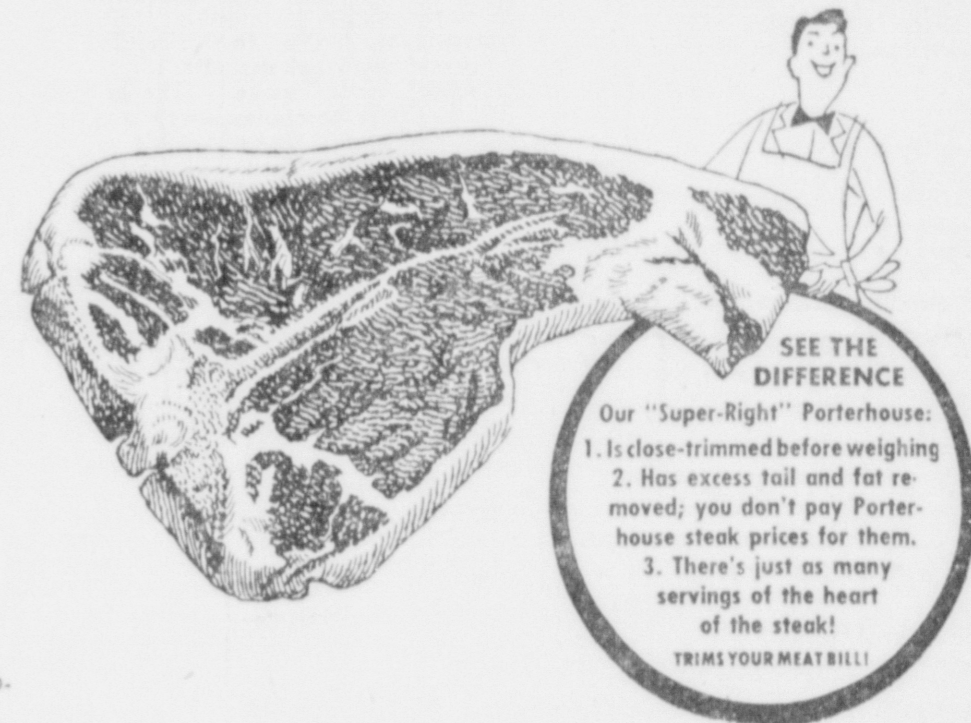

Generally you will find Porterhouse Steaks cut with a large portion of flank meat left on, and very little of the excess fat removed.

It's uneconomical to buy steak as pictured above. For example: such a Porterhouse Steak, cut from fine-quality, corn-fed beef, is costly at the relatively low price of 86¢ per pound. This steak weighing 1 lb. 12 oz. would cost

$1.50

"SUPER-RIGHT" PORTERHOUSE STEAK

Here is the same fine-quality steak cut from corn-fed beef—but trimmed the "Super-Right" way—carefully prepared and with excess fat and flank meat removed. This is the choicest part of the Porterhouse Steak.

You get just that portion of Porterhouse Steak which is so delicious and succulent when broiled. Cut the "Super-Right" way, it weighs 1 lb. 6 oz. At 86¢ lb., it costs only

$1.18

Father O'Donnell, Retired President Of Notre Dame Dies

South Bend, Ind., June 12 (AP)—The Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., who retired a year ago as president of the University of Notre Dame, died today in the university infirmary. He was 72 years old.

He had been ill with cancer for some time and had undergone an operation several months ago.

Father O'Donnell had been associated with Notre Dame almost without interruption for 35 years. He was appointed acting president in January 1940, succeeding the Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, who had resigned to become supervising bishop of the U. S. Army and Navy Catholic diocese.

He was appointed president for a three-year term in July 1940 and was reappointed in July 1943. He was succeeded a year ago by the Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, who had served under him as vice president.

The climax of his long service to the university came last week when he was awarded the honorary doctor of laws degree at the annual commencement.

Father O'Donnell guided Notre Dame throughout the war years and was instrumental in bringing the naval training programs to the university. During his tenure more than 25,000 men received training at Notre Dame for service as officers in the Navy, and nearly 12,000 were commissioned.

He also made the university's laboratory facilities available to the government for special research in atomic energy and other fields.

Before retiring he handled the problems of the large number of veterans returning to their studies. During his last semester Notre Dame's enrollment increased from 3,200 to 4,500 students.

The university's endowment was expanded during his presidency from $1,000,000 to more than $3,650,000. He encouraged expansion of the graduate school and helped establish the Medieval Institute.

He was born June 2, 1895, in Grand Rapids, Mich., and entered Notre Dame as an undergraduate in 1912. He was an honor student and an athlete, winning a letter as center on the football team in 1915.

He received the Litt. B. degree at Notre Dame in 1916 and entered the seminary of the Congregation of Holy Cross. He was ordained to the priesthood at Grand Rapids Dec. 28, 1921.

He was named rector at Badin hall at Notre Dame in 1923 and the next year became prefect of discipline and supervisor of student activities, a post he held until 1931. At the same time he served as professor of history.

In 1931 he left to become president of St. Edward's university at Austin, Tex. He returned in 1934 to become vice-president of Notre Dame, a position he held until his elevation to the presidency.

After his retirement he aided university officials in an advisory capacity. At the time he became ill last winter he was preparing to leave on a mission for the Congregation of Holy Cross to visit its establishments in South America.

He is survived by a brother and a sister, Dr. F. J. O'Donnell and Mrs. A. G. Graziani, both of Alpena, Mich., who were with him when he died.

Damage Estimated At $26,000,000 In Four-State Flood

St. Louis, June 12 (AP)—Heavy rains built up a new flood threat in northwest Missouri and three adjacent states today, but the situation eased somewhat on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers above where more than 1,000,000 acres had been inundated with damage estimated by the war department at $26,000,000.

As the crests approached the confluence of the two rivers 15 miles north of here, key levees were holding and the government weather bureau said it was unlikely the high waters would meet and that no major flood damage was anticipated in the St. Louis area.

The weather bureau at Kansas City issued a warning to lowland residents in northwest Missouri and nearby sections of Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska after heavy rainfall sent the Missouri and its tributaries on the rise again in that area.

This new rise will effect the Boonville-Glasgow district of north central Missouri where the Missouri has crumbled levees and flooded more than 500,000 acres, much of it in rich farm land.

Action Is Demanded On Soviet Proposal For Atomic Control

Lake Success, June 12 (AP)—Russia demanded today that the United Nations start work now on new Soviet proposals for atomic control and assailed a United States move to keep the Soviet and U. S. atomic plans apart.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, declared at a closed meeting of the working committee of U. N. atomic energy commission that the United States and Russian programs must be considered simultaneously on their merits.

He opposed a suggestion by Frederick H. Osborn, U. S. deputy, for separate consideration.

PATRICIANS PUT ON A HIT SHOW

'Arsenic And Old Lace' Repeated Tonight At Bonifas Auditorium

In the theatre "first nights" are apt to end up in almost anything. When the players are rather young the situation is even more dubious. Stage fright and forgetfulness only begin the list.

But last night in William Bonifas auditorium a crowd of drama-lovers generally extended their plaudits for the first performance of the Patrician Thespians' "Arsenic and Old Lace."

Summarizing the comedy as "a story of two charming and innocent ladies populating their cellar with the remains of socially and religiously acceptable roomers," the cast took off on a good interpretation of the Joseph Kesselring comedy.

The play was lively; several persons noted a certain professional air about the production. It promises to attract many of its first night audience for the performance this evening. Same time 8:15, same place.

Direction was by Father Thomas Ruppe, who earlier in the season was assisted by Miss Mary Vaughan of the senior high faculty.

A matinee performance was presented yesterday afternoon. Those in the audience included the Sisters of St. Ann school, St. Joseph school, St. Francis hospital and St. Patrick church. Several priests from neighboring parishes were also in attendance.

Out-of-towners here for the show last night included Miss Regina Ruppe of Ironwood and the Misses Dorothy Drolet and Dorothy Thiel of Chicago.

FARLEY GIVES INSIDE STORY ON ROOSEVELT

He added, however, that Roosevelt was "most generous" in his remarks at the dinner.

It was at this affair—Feb. 15, 1937—that Mr. Roosevelt first mentioned he did not plan to run again, Farley wrote, adding:

"Yet in the months to come he was to find fault with a long list of suspected and actual aspirants to his succession. They were either too old or too young; too ambitious or too unknown; too conservative or too radical, or too poor in health or too lacking in personality."

4—Farley supported the president's plan to revamp the supreme court, but refused to go along a year later—1938—with the "no less disastrous attempt to purge the Democratic party of those who had opposed his will. I believe that deep down inside he never forgave me for putting party welfare above the personal allegiance he considered his due."

5—Farley refused to carry out a presidential request to intercede in behalf of Senator Barkley of Kentucky in the latter's campaign to succeed the late Senator Robinson as majority leader. Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi was Barkley's opponent.

Farley wrote that after a conference with Roosevelt, he told both Barkley and Harrison that neither he nor the president would take sides in the leadership contest. But days later the president urged him to phone Mayor Kelly of Chicago to vote for Senator Dietrich (D-Ill) to get for Barkley.

Farley refused on the ground it would be in violation of his pledge, whereupon Roosevelt cut him off with a curt "very well," and added, "I'll get Harry Hopkins to do it." Two days later Barkley was elected majority leader 38 to 37, with Dietrich supporting Barkley.

111 Cedar StreetREA ANNUAL
MEET JUNE 18Capital Credits Plan
To Be Considered
By Members

Annual meeting of members of the Alger-Delta Cooperative Electric association is to be held in the Legion hall here next Wednesday morning, starting at 10.

Guest speaker will be Reino Kliskinen of the education division of the Northland Cooperative Federation.

Principal business will be reports of officers and directors, election of three directors for three-year terms and the proposal of using the Capital Credits Plan of operation will be placed before the members for approval or rejection. In the event of adoption amendments will have to be made to articles of incorporation and by-laws.

Directors whose terms of office expire include Emil Lampinen, present chairman of the board; Julius Sivula, vice president of the cooperative, and Folmer Olson.

Consideration of the capital credits plan is one of the big items of business of the meeting. Under this plan members agree to leave overcharges in as capital with which the cooperative can operate. Normally, overcharges of a cooperative are refunded to members on an annual basis.

In explaining the reason for

Celebrated Outdoorsman And His Chinooks Roleo Feature

One of the nation's outstanding outdoor attractions, Perry Greene and his celebrated Chinook dogs, of Waldoboro, Maine, will come to Gladstone for the Roleo - Homecoming - Firemen's tournament, July 4-8.

proposing the plan, Wynand Nieuwenkamp, manager of the cooperative, said the typical farm cooperative usually requires relatively small capital investment in proportion to annual business but this is not true in the case of the electric cooperative. He said in the annual revenues are small in comparison with the total investment and for this reason it would not be good business to pay patronage refunds either immediately or for several years.

Under the suggested plan, refunds will be made from time to time depending upon the financial condition of the cooperative.

It is to be borne in mind, he said, that for the most part electric cooperatives are financed close to 100 per cent with an REA loan and for that reason it is necessary for the cooperative to maintain substantial reserves in order to have funds on hand with which to meet normal payments in the event of a recession in economic conditions.

The cooperative at present serves 1,350 consumers along 500 miles of distribution lines.

It will be the first summer show for the nationally known outdoorsman and he plans to equip a sled with wheels and bring a team of five dogs with him.

Greene is recognized as the only breeder of Chinook dogs in the world.

His Chinooks hold an unequalled dog-sled record, having covered 502 miles with an 800-pound load in 90 hours.

Greene himself is a colorful woodsman and has been at times, lumberjack, trapper and prospector. He is acclaimed the world champion axeman and when paired with Joe King of Rockland also claims no equals in crosscut sawing.

Greene was the subject of a feature story in the January 11 issue of the Saturday Evening Post which was illustrated with color pictures taken by Ivan Dmitri who did the roleo in 1941 for the SEP.

The Post story by John Durant described the dogs as highly intelligent and gentle and stated they could be used as house pet, guardian, work or water dog. They weigh between 90 and 110 pounds, have a thick tawny coat, furry arched tails, exceptionally wide chest, long muzzle and pointed ears and have never been known to bite a man.

Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, 617 North Seventh street, are spending a week visiting relatives and friends in Chicago.

Social

Diotte-Olson

All white cut flowers and candles decorated the Altars of the Ascension church, Fisher and Ascension street, Detroit, on Saturday morning, June 7, when Miss Christine Diotte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Diotte, Detroit, and Bernard C. Olson, Detroit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Olson, 1421 Wisconsin avenue, City, spoke their marriage vows before the Rev. Fr. Klonjaluak, at the 9:15 o'clock ceremony.

The music of the Mass was sung by the Junior choir of the church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white skinkers satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long tight sleeves that came to a point over the wrist, and a full skirt that fell into a graceful train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a tiara of seed pearls. A white garland centered her shower bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley, tied with white satin streamers.

The misses Dolores and Beverly Diotte, sisters of the bride, were maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. They were identical floor length gowns of blue and pink skinkers satin, fashioned with tight fitting bodices, and net overskirts. Their fingertip length matching veils were centered with flowers, and their elbow length satin gloves were of self material. The maid of honors shower bouquet consisted of white carnations tied with blue satin ribbons and the bridesmaids bouquet was pink carnations with pink satin knotted streamers.

Don Gollinger was the best man and Louis Gamelon, ushered.

The bride's mother wore yellow crepe with brown accessories, and the groom's mother chose black crepe trimmed with pink and black accessories. Their corsages were pink and white carnations.

A wedding breakfast for immediate members of the family was served at the home of the bride's parents. Cut flowers and pink and white streamers formed the decorations. A four tiered wedding cake, topped by the traditional bride and groom centered the table. A reception for over one hundred and fifty guests was held in the evening at the L.O.O.F. hall.

The bride attended school in Detroit and graduated from High School in Marquette, Mich., and the groom is a graduate of Gladstone High School, class of '42. He was in service for two years and was in the European Theatre. He is employed in the accounting department of Divco Motors.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in the Copper Country and will make their home in Detroit.

Mrs. Carl Olson, mother of the groom was an out-of-town guest at the wedding.

Coterie

The members of the Coterie held their final meeting of the season on Tuesday afternoon with their annual summer party. Thirty-six persons attended, including invited guests. The event was held in the Marine room of the Ludington Hotel and floral decorations were used. The 1 o'clock luncheon was followed by bridge. Mrs. Glenn Jackson had high honors. Mrs. Phil Clark second, and Mrs. Douglas Mathison low.

The committee in charge of the arrangements was composed of Mrs. J. A. Hetrick, chairman, assisted by Mrs. D. N. Kee and Mrs. Leo Weingartner.

RURAL HOME
IS DESTROYEDClothing, Bedding And
Furniture Badly Needed

The rural home of Arden Swisher, in the vicinity of the Burns corner, near Germfask, was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon, and as a result the family is in need of clothing, bedding, furniture and shelter.

Mrs. Swisher had burned an old mattress in the yard during the afternoon and brands from this, it is believed, set fire to the roof of the log cabin in which the family made its home. She was unaware of the fire until one of the children rushed into the house to tell her that the roof was all on fire. By that time the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be done to save the building.

An appeal is being made through the local welfare office and Mrs. Lottie Weber, county agent, for clothing, bedding and household furnishings. Of the eight children, five are boys ranging in age from three to 17, and three girls, two, seven and 13. Mrs. Swisher is of medium height and slender.

They are living temporarily with a nearby relative. Other accommodations will have to be provided soon, it was said. Mr. Swisher is employed in a sawmill.

Those wishing to assist this family should get in touch with Lottie Weber, county agent, telephone 115-W.

Mrs. Edna Gilroy, 54, resident of Manistique for many years, died early Thursday morning at her home in Port Huron, where she has lived for the past five years. She had been ill for several months.

Mrs. Gilroy was born in Sault Ste. Marie May 22, 1893, and came to Manistique with her parents when she was 12 years of age, living there until 1942 when she and her family moved to Port Huron. During her residence here she was an active member of the Free Methodist church.

Surviving her are her husband, Bernie Gilroy, Port Huron; three sons, Dwayne, Manistique; Harold, Port Huron, and Lyle, Dearborn; seven sisters, Mrs. Viola Van Thorne, Spring Arbor; Mrs. Etta York, Port Huron; Mrs. Leola Marr, Kalamazoo; Mrs. Hildred Arntz and Mrs. Luella Buckout, Vicksburg; Mrs. Leoline Minor and Mrs. Arthur Gilroy of Manistique; two brothers, Herb Cutler, Battle Creek, and Rev. Elwyn Cutler, Spring Arbor; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held in Port Huron on Saturday afternoon and burial will be in Spring Arbor.

"A woman, a dog and a walnut tree—the more you beat them the better they be." It's really true that an English walnut tree beaten, produces more nuts.

In a thousand years the only animals known to have become extinct in highly industrialized England are the wolf, beaver, wild boar, brown bear and reindeer.

Social

Miss Marion Wieland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wieland, Indian Lake, became the bride of Reinhold Fuhlbrugge, son of Mrs. Margaret Fuhlbrugge, Route 5, Midland, in a ceremony performed Sunday, June 1 at St. John's Lutheran church in Midland.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, William Wieland jr., in the double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Waldemar A. Rook. Her gown was of ivory brocade satin with long sleeves ending in fingertip length points and a flowing train also of ivory brocade satin. The round neckline of the gown was accented by a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her fingertip veil was secured to a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Niggeman of Adrian, sister of the bride, was dressed in a gown of aqua nylon marquisette, styled with long sleeves and a round neckline. In her hair she wore a garland of pink carnations and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Bridesmaids Miss Bertha Burnell of Midland and Miss Vivian Peterson of Manistique both wore pink marquisette gowns fashioned similarly to the matron of honor's and carried blue carnations and wore blue carnations in their hair.

Best man for the ceremony was Ewald Fuhlbrugge, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Sylvan Rosenbaum, Adolph Fuhlbrugge, brother of the bridegroom, Otto Schlagraut and Charles Niggeman.

Mrs. Wieland, mother of the bride, dressed in a navy blue flowered frock with navy blue accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Fuhlbrugge, chose a blue dress with navy accessories and also wore a corsage of white carnations.

Wedding music was played at the organ by Mrs. Ellis Bulmer, and vocal selections were presented by Mrs. Herbert Pawlitz.

Following the ceremony the 125 guests adjourned to the church basement for a reception in honor of the newly weds.

When Mr. and Mrs. Fuhlbrugge left on their wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the bride was wearing a beige suit with tan accessories and a corsage of white roses. Upon their return they will reside at 715 Gordon street, Midland.

The bride is a graduate of Manistique high school, and has been employed in Midland at the Dow Chemical company. Her husband is in business in Midland.

NEW COUNTY AGENT ON JOB

Clayton Reid Took Over
New Duties Here
Tuesday

Clayton Reid, recently appointed agricultural agent in Schoolcraft and Alger counties, assumed his duties Tuesday following his return the first of the week from Beltsville, Maryland where he spent a week at the national agricultural research center. He succeeds Joseph Heirman in the local field, Heirman being transferred to Delta county.

He will be in the office at the Chatham Experiment Station from 10 a. m. until noon each Monday and in the office in the afternoon by appointment. Otherwise he will make farm calls during the afternoon. Farmers having problems which they wish to discuss may leave word either at the Chatham office or at his office in Manistique.

The county agent will be in his Manistique office each Saturday morning from 10 until noon.

On the trip to and from Beltsville, Mr. Reid noticed many agricultural areas, particularly in Southern Michigan and Ohio, have been hit by late rains the same as here. There has been little planting of small grains and many fields are flooded. This situation prompts him to advise local farmers that if they expect to be short of grain they should buy some right away. He also advises farmers to get hay cut early and put it up in as good condition as possible so that less grain will be needed.

Mrs. Clara Whitman has left for Muskegon where she will spend several days visiting with her sister, Mrs. George Irwin.

ESCANABA BEARS—Next Sunday, June 15, is booster day for the Escanaba Bears who will meet Marquette in a Michigan Rainbow league game at City diamond. Usual admission prices will be in effect for the booster game, but the Bears are conducting an advance ticket sale to bring out a record crowd. This picture, taken at the start of the season, shows the fol-

The South will square off against the North again Sunday afternoon as the Rainbow Baseball league swings into its fifth week of play with southern teams holding edge over their northern rivals.

South teams have won 15 games and lost 10 to date, compared with 10 victories and 15 defeats for the northerners.

One record went into the books last Sunday when the South scored a complete shutout over teams of the northern division—a grand slam not likely to be repeated this season by either division.

The Escanaba Bears will be host to the Marquette Legionnaires in a "booster" game at the city diamond. Gladstone will be host to Gwin, and Manistique will invade Ishpeming. Manistique will entertain Negaunee.

Escanaba, Gladstone, Trenary and Manistique are setting the pace in the southern division, each with three victories against a lone defeat, and Humboldt has the same record in topping the northern by itself.

Gladstone and Escanaba are favored to win their respective battles, while the Manistique-Ishpeming tilt is rated a tossup, with the Hematites having the advantage of playing on their home lot.

By its past performances, Humboldt figures to take Trenary, and

CUBS TROUNCE PIRATES, 7 TO 3

Pittsburgh, June 12 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs tonight sank Pittsburgh's hopes for a winning streak on the home grounds after a disastrous road trip, administering a thumping 7-3 defeat in which a succession of Buc pitchers failed to hold the visitors in line to the disappointment of 32,132 fans.

The victory, credited to Hurler Paul Erickson although he required relief from Johnny Schmitz in the eighth, put Chicago in a second place tie with Brooklyn.

Don Johnson, Cub second baseman, hit an eighth inning triple off the right field wall with the bases loaded to drive in three runs and send Pirate Pitcher Jim Bagby to the showers. Johnson also sparked with two singles.

Chicago nicked Edson Bahr for a run in the first inning on successive singles by Stan Hack and Johnson and an infield out. The Cubs got two more in the fourth on singles by Phil Cavarretta and Dom Dallesandro and Len Merullo's short fly to right which fell for a fluke double because the Bucs got their fielding signals crossed.

Dallesandro singled again to open the sixth, advanced to second on an infield out and scored on Erickson's single.

If You Want U. P. All-Star Battle, Write Dr. Bessolo

Football fans of this vicinity desiring to see the Upper Peninsula all-star grid game staged again this summer in Negaunee are asked to write Dr. S. J. Bessolo, chairman of the Negaunee recreational committee, which has taken over sponsorship of the game.

The committee will meet Monday, June 16, to make its final decision regarding the game, in which U. P. high school coaches have been banned from participating.

The Babe Tops British Golf

16TH STRAIGHT FOR DIDRIKSON

BY GLENN WILLIAMS

Gullane, Scotland, June 12 (AP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias hitched up her faded blue corduroy slacks after lunch today and slapped out a 5 and 4 conquest of London's Jacqueline Gordon that made the Texas tomboy the first American-born golfer ever to win the British Women's crown.

Her triumph cleaned out the British Golf trophy chest—every English title for which Americans may compete now is held in the United States.

The one-time Olympic javelin thrower—for nine years the wife of Denver's George Zaharias but still known throughout the athletic world as Babe Didrikson—switched to her lucky pants after lunch and promptly won five of the first six holes to gain her victory margin.

During the morning round she had honored the occasion of playing in the final round by wearing "some refined" clothes—a grey flannel divided skirt, brushed wool sweater of dainty yellow and a white blouse.

"The pants did it," she chortled on the 32nd green in a brief victory jig immediately after ramming home the putt that gave her a half for the hole and closed out the match for her sixteenth straight tournament triumph. The string includes the U. S. Women's Amateur meet of 1946.

During the seven rounds over the East Lothian layout Mrs. Zaharias had a best ball score of 62, which is nine strokes below the unofficial par for men and 14 under the women's figures. British courses have no set par as do courses in the United States.

Yanks Blank Giants In Benefit, 7 and 0

New York, June 12 (AP)—The New York Yankees shut out the New York Giants, 7-0, tonight in the first of a best-of-three game exhibition series for the Mayor O'Dwyer trophy. Proceeds of the contest, witnessed by 39,970 fans, went to the New York Sanitary Baseball Fund and the Damon Runyan Memorial Fund for cancer relief.

4th Place In June! A's Can't Believe It

Philadelphia, June 12 (AP)—As far as the Philadelphia Athletics are concerned this is the rarest day in June since 1933 and Connie ("Mr. Baseball") Mack says "by heck we may surprise everybody yet."

"I never thought we'd be in fourth place in June, three games out of first and still in a winning mood—especially this year," the 85-year-old manager grinned.

It is estimated 300 million people are stricken with malaria every year and of these three million die.

The Sports Parade

BY JIM WARD

U. P. ROUNDUP: Swede Anderson, the Gastra mound sensation back from an unsuccessful tryout with the Detroit Tigers, went back to work the other day and fanned 14 as Gastra topped Gibbs City, 3-2, in the Interstate Iron Mountain is still undefeated in the NWM league with seven straight... Niagara is second with six wins and one loss and South Range, Marinette and Kingsford are tied for third with four and three... Johnny Revolta, Evanston, Ill., former golf pro at Menominee, recently won the Illinois PGA title for the fifth time... Revolta used to serve Riverside at Menominee, scene of the U. P. golf meet this August.

A third Olson has broken in the Marquette Bluejay lineup (NWM). It's Gordon, Eddy and Roy Olson now. Brother Wackey does the announcing... Incidentally, something else new has been introduced in Marquette... You've heard about twilight golf... Well, they have a sunrise golf loop there now... Players tee off at 6 a. m. every Wednesday... Don't start that yet, Cotton!

Much confusion in Iron Mountain over Holy Name Society's softball team failing to show up for a much-ballyhooed game... Apologies are being dropped right and left... It seems someone not in authority spoke out of turn... Mickey McCormick, Menominee high coach, has a novel way of keeping kids off the school gridiron so the grass can grow... He hires a youngster guard and it sets him back the cost of an ice cream cone, but he says it works.

ODDS AND ENDS: Something-new-every-day item—Whitely Howe, minor league player at Tucson, Ariz., has a clause in his contract stipulating they can't sell him to a major league club... He likes the Southwest, he says... London golf writers are in a frenzy over Babe Zaharias... The reaction is this: They didn't believe it before, and now that they've seen her play golf, they still can't believe it... They've used up all their superlatives... So another British crown comes to America.

Manistique Fords

Tip Paper Makers
Manistique, June 12—The Fords got the best of the Paper Makers by a 5-2 score in the opening of the softball season at the court house ground diamond.

It was a pitchers' battle between Cody and Boyd with Boyd being jinxed by Lesica who made three hits in three times at bat. The Paper Makers made a serious threat in the final inning with the bases loaded, but Cody worked himself out of the tight spot in spectacular fashion.

Detroit Pushes Bid For 1952 Olympics; Mayor Very Hopeful

New York, June 12 (AP)—A Detroit delegation headed by Mayor Edward J. Jeffries departed for Stockholm by plane today to present the motor city's bid for the 1952 Olympic games to the International Olympic committee, meeting next week.

Jeffries said he was "very hopeful" that the invitation to hold the games in Detroit would be accepted.

He said Detroit plans to build a stadium to seat 104,000 persons and a swimming pool to accommodate 20,000 spectators.

Jack Tompkins, who with Kenneth Lapham made up the Detroit party, said it was estimated that the stadium and swimming pool would cost from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 and could be built within "a year and a half, if necessary."

Stockholm, June 11 (AP)—The host city for the 1952 Olympic games will be selected at the meeting of the International Olympic committee starting Monday in this sports-happy capital, whose citizens are taking advantage of the influx of world athletic leaders to demonstrate their own abilities on playing fields.

At least three American cities, Minneapolis, Los Angeles and Detroit, are scheduled to have delegates here to lobby for their native real estate. The chief opposition comes from Helsinki, Finland, for which some European delegates are pulling.

WORLD CHAMPS NOSED BY REDS

Cincinnati, June 12 (AP)—Kent Peterson, rookie southpaw, held the St. Louis Cardinals to five scattered hits as the Cincinnati Reds edged the staggering World Champions, 1-0, before 27,075 fans here tonight.

The Reds got only seven hits off John Hearn but bunched four of them in the seventh when the winning run was scored.

With one out, Bert Haas singled to left, went around to third as Augie Galan lashed a single off Stan Musial's glove at first and scored as Eddie Miller lined a single through third that Whitey Kurowski just managed to touch with his glove.

Pitcher Peterson then singled through second but Galan, trying to come home from second, was out at the plate on a fine throw from Red Schoendienst to Catcher Del Rice.

The Cards made their most serious threat in the seventh. Erv Dusak led off with a single and advanced on Murial's sacrifice. Kurowski was purposely passed. Duck Medwick, however, lined out to Grady Hatton at third and Dusak was doubled off second.
